

Delaware Committee on Soviet Jewry Collection Series:

Delaware Committee on Soviet Jewry Materials, 1969-1976 (Box 20):

Series contains meeting minutes, correspondence, press releases, and publications produced by the Delaware Committee on Soviet Jewry (DCSJ). The DCSJ was a subcommittee of the Jewish Federation of Delaware's Jewish Community Relations Council, but included representatives from multiple Jewish organizations and synagogues in Delaware. The DCSJ held events, communicated with government officials, and produced publications and news articles to advocate for Jews living in the Soviet Union who faced government persecution. The committee also advocated for Iraqi and Syrian Jews. Along with the textual materials, this series includes photographs from a 1971 vigil held in Rodney Square and a 1969 rally held at the Jewish Community Center. Other materials include a 1973 Haggadah, "Exodus Now!" and 1972 coloring book "Journey to Freedom: The Story of the Soviet Jews."
